

August 24, 2015

Hello, my name is Ron Tramontano, I am from Boca Raton Florida. My business is the development of online video competitions in all areas of business models. Today, the potential of millions of dollars can be generated for business owners from each of the “business models” that participates in online events they create. Our business is unique in that it is designed not only to makes money for business owners, but also promoters and event organizers as well as the industries to which they belong.

Tramontano is also the Chairman and Founder of NATSDF “ North American Tang Soo Do Federation” <http://tman.com/LOGIN/natsdf> & TMAAN “The Martial Arts Action Network”, a 24/7 Cable Television Network devoted to the world of martial arts and its practitioners.

TMAAN or “TMAN” as it is called had offices located at 22 Universal Studios, Florida in the mid to late nineties but are now located in Boca Raton Florida. Master Ron Tramontano is an extremely successful entrepreneur, businessman, author and martial arts master. As the head of the North American Tang Soo Do Federation, Tramontano teaches and oversees the instruction of over five hundred students and one hundred and sixty black belts a week at his facility in Boca Raton, Florida. He, along with Dr. Ron Valli, are the creators of one of the largest martial arts websites in the world, “The Martial Arts Network On-Line”. <http://tman.com>.

In an all out effort, Master Tramontano began to take steps that created an idea and dream that has been on the lips of every martial artist for the last 21 years. The Martial Arts Network, a network for us, for martial artists. Imagine now, how great this would be for martial artists all over this country to have our own television network. Master Tramontano quickly looked to the technology of our time, in late 1994, and along with Dr. Ron Valli, created the first ever website for Martial Arts. This website went on to support the television network project in every way. Tman.com, grew every day as it achieved over a million hits a month. In 1996, Master Tramontano along with partner, student and longtime friend, Mr. Tony Interdonato, moved the television network from Boca Raton, Florida to Universal Studio in Orlando.

For seven long years, Tramontano, Interdonato and Dr. Ron Valli work trying to fit many of the pieces together that would ultimately grow a family oriented television network, dedicated to the martial arts community. Master Tramontano’s vision was a simple one; he wanted to create a television network that would reinforce family values, a place where every parent would feel comfortable having their children in front of a television knowing the right messages were being taught. In a continuing effort to give back to a community Master Tramontano loves and feels has given him so much, he now present TVMAC, The Virtual Martial Arts Competition <http://virtualmaevents.com> <http://virtualmaschoolowners.com>.

Screenplay Writer “Time Master Trilogy” www.tman.com/LOGIN/tmaster/ and Author of two published books on martial arts, “A Practical Guide to Self Defense thru The Martial Arts” and “The Tang Soo Do Forms Workbook”, Master Tramontano has two and then I create it. Look here for many of Master Tramontano's accomplishments and websites. <http://tman.com/RT/rt>.

Ron Tramontano tested in the 75th Dan testing and received his Dan rank from Grand Master Hwang Kee. He started his martial arts training in Newburg, New York, under the tutelage of Master Don Southerton. At the time, Master Southerton was the chief instructor at West Point Military Academy where Tramontano attended OCS "Officers Candidate School" for one year after serving two years in the military.

If you stop to see Master Tramontano at his school in Boca Raton, Florida, "West Boca Karate", you will find a beautifully kept, technically modern facility. You can view the many photographs and pictures of Master Tramontano with Chuck Norris, Don "The Dragon" Wilson, Cynthia Rothrock and many other martial arts icons.

Tramontano worked for the New York Telephone Company for period of fourteen years in a highly specialized department. This department handled all live televised events from presidential elections, to the hostages being returned from Iran in the seventies, to the Pope visiting New York, and the construction of CNN transmitting facility at the Twin Towers in New York. Tramontano's job, at this time, was to provide Broadcasters like NBC, CBS and ABC, to mention just a few, with a studio to transmitter link. Sometimes this link, "Video Circuit", was hard wired but most of the time was created by a Microwave Remote transmission.

Master Tramontano moved to Boca Raton, Florida where he was employed by a Miami based communication company, Teltec Communication Inc, where he helped engineer and build Teltec's first long distance microwave communications system.

After completing the Teltec microwave system, Tramontano went on to open West Boca Karate Center. Now in its twenty eight year, he has grown this school to be one of the largest schools in this country known for its quality Black Belt instruction and dedication to its youth.

Master Tramontano was born in 1948 in New York. He grew up in the Bronx, a borough of New York City. He attended Rockland Community College, where he majored in electronics. He graduated with a Bachelor of Electronics from The Metropolitan College. An avid reader and seminar attendee, Tramontano follows the works of such people as Anthony Robbins, Jim Rohn and Roger Dawson, to name a few. He is a licensed pilot, likes to play the guitar and is an accomplished pianist. Master Tramontano lives with his wife Linda, in Lake Worth, Florida. Master Tramontano is often heard saying to his students and instructors the only way you will ever know if you are in the right profession is to ask yourself this question, "If you were to win the lottery tomorrow, would you continue to do what you do? My answer is always the same, yes, I would.